Features of the Graduate School

The Graduate School of Asia-Pacific Studies (GSAPS) was founded in April 1998. The mission of GSAPS is to assess and analyse the Asia-Pacific region from a broad analytical perspective. GSAPS is a cross-disciplinary school that has "International Relations", "International Development/ Policy Studies", and "Area Studies", and is one of the few educational institutions in the world that offers an interdisciplinary International Relations programme for training students in three specializations.

Features of the Programme

In the Programme of MA in International Relations, students focus on one area of three specializations – "International Relations", "International Development / Policy Studies", and "Area Studies", but at the same time can take courses in all three areas. GSAPS offers many courses that are especially useful for the study of effective policy administration in Nepal. GSAPS provides guidance to JDS fellows from Nepal in the following ways. In the field of economic policy, GSAPS helps JDS students to acquire the skills necessary for conducting practical research, analysis, and the construction of policy recommendations so that they can contribute to the fostering of international economic ties with Nepal's neighbouring countries in South Asia, China, and emerging economies in Southeast Asia and Northeast Asia.
